Paid Internship from “The Wealth School”

We are The Wealth School (www.thewealthschool.com). We specialize in financial education and have been running our entrepreneurship coaching successfully since 2020.

One of the most important programs of The Wealth School is ‘Wealth Gyan’, a financial literacy and investment education program focused on retirement planning for salaried professionals. With this program, we are trying to eradicate one of the biggest problems of the professional ecosystem – lack of financial awareness.

We are looking for a team of sales interns from your college to work with us and promote the program among their own circles. The Job Description is as follows:

- Promoting the program and the concept of financial awareness among people they know
- Business generation for Wealth Gyan

We seek students who –

- Have good communication skills
- Are eager to learn professional skills
- Preferably looking for a job after college
- Though there are financial rewards, we prefer individuals who seek career support more than monetary gains at this stage

What our interns get –

- Attractive financial benefits – the interns are entitled to 40% of the revenue generated, and should be able to earn ₹ 5,000 to ₹ 10,000 easily.
- The interns get robust sales training free of cost, and complete handholding through the entire process
- The objectives are made simple for interns
- The interns will get certificates on successful completion

Please also note –

- We prefer students from the final year, however, other students are also welcome
- The training and work will not encroach into the college hours
